

Providence Park Receives $15,000 Grant from Bank of America

Advances Nonprofit's Effort to House Neighbors by Winter 2025

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (Oct. 6, 2025) – Providence Park, a North Little Rock nonprofit committed to providing permanent housing and comprehensive support to the chronically homeless in Pulaski County, has been awarded a $15,000 grant from Bank of America as part of its work to create stronger communities through stable housing.

Funding will support the construction of one of the first homes within Phase One of Providence Park's building plan. Through grants that advance economic mobility, Bank of America is helping organizations like Providence Park create lasting stability and opportunity for individuals and families.

"As we continue construction and our efforts to move neighbors into Providence Park by this winter, we are deeply grateful for Bank of America's support," said Erin Stanger, founder and CEO of Providence Park. "This investment helps us take another step toward providing safe, permanent housing for the chronically homeless in Pulaski County. This gift advances our vision of a supportive community where every resident can find belonging and purpose."

In addition to grant funds, Bank of America also donated hygiene kits to assist future residents with the transition from homelessness to home ownership.

To learn more about Providence Park or to support its mission, please visit ProvidenceParkHome.com.

###

About Providence Park

Providence Park is a nonprofit organization based in North Little Rock, Arkansas, dedicated to ending chronic homelessness in Central Arkansas. In partnership with Pulaski County, Providence Park is developing a 50-acre master-planned community to provide affordable, permanent housing and a supportive environment for individuals transitioning out of chronic homelessness. Providence Park's mission is to serve its homeless neighbors by offering a safe and supportive environment that fosters dignity, empowerment, and grace, helping residents build self-sufficiency and a sense of belonging.

Media Contact

Meredith Hale, MHale@StoneWard.com

Graphics: Providence Park - Horizontal - Full Color Logo